Dragon Boats race against cancer

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

The third annual Paddling for the Pink- Dragon Boat Festival, sponsored by the Kentucky Thorough-Breasts and Saint Elizabeth Health Care was held at the A.J. Jolly Park Lake in Campbell County on September 8, 2012 beginning at 9:00 a.m. It is estimated that close to 5,000 people participated in the festival. There were 10 Dragon Boats and 43 teams employing 20 rowers per team. The ultimate winner of the races was a team called " Victory Through Sacrifice ". The event is a fund raiser that promotes breast cancer awareness, encouraging self examination and the use of mammograms to accomplish early detection.

Shelby Johnson, the daughter of Steve and Laurie Johnson was born on September 11, 2001. On that date terrorists attacked our nation in New York City and in Washington D.C. Nearly 3,000 of our citizens were murdered and more than 6,000 others were injured. Shelby's mom spent part of that day watching TV news coverage of the event in a hospital labor room. Shelby was born at 5:30 p.m. Laurie says, "Steve and I have always told Shelby that her birth date made her even more special to us, because she brought love and hope on a dark day."

Citizen addresses court concerning local traffic issue

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

Mr. John Patrick addressed the Pendleton County Fiscal Court in regard to speeding vehicles on Highway 491 near the Gardnersville Baptist Church. He said the speed limit there was 35 mph, but cars flew over the road, like it was a drag strip. " Someday someone will get hurt." Patrick said. A request was made to the sheriff's department that they patrol the area, said the citizen, but he was told they would come when called. Judge Bertram explained that the fiscal court or the county attorney had no authority over the sheriff, that he was an elected official and was his own boss. Mr. Patrick said that something must be done and he intended to contact Frankfort pertaining to the matter. After Mr. Patrick had left the lawmakers Magistrate David Fields ask, if a radar read out machine could be placed on 491 near the church to make motorist aware that they were violating the limit. Sheriff Craig Peoples answered that this was a possibility and that his department would support such an action.(In an interview conducted a week after the court meeting Sheriff Peoples said that his department had contacted the Division of Highway Safety in Frankfort in regard to obtaining a radar machine and was currently awaiting their reply.)

Other business conducted by the Pendleton County Fiscal Court in the August 28, 2012 meeting:

- Approved GRW Contract for Butler Sewer Project.
- Approved purchase of a 2003 pre-owned one ton four-wheel drive truck from Frankfort surplus for the Pendleton County Road Department at a cost of $6,000.
- Approved Code Red 911 Reverse Calling Contract.
- Approved county contract with Falmouth Fire Department.
- Approved Pendleton County Airport Waterline Grant.
- Approved the appointment of Gregg Browning to the Pendleton County Cemetery Board.
- Approved the hiring of part-time road department workers.
- Approved the hiring of a part-time student co-op worker for the county animal shelter.
- Approved the paying of jail employees for security services provided during the Northern Pendleton tornado aftermath
- Approved the sheriff department's closeout of the 2011 Tax Settlement
- Approved contract employing Angela Hornbeck as the Gateway Technical College marketing agent.
- Judge Bertram updated the magistrates regarding the August 25 debris cleanup in the Peach Grove tornado disaster area.
- Discussed agreement with CSX Railroad regarding the repair of the Catawba Bridge and its eventual transfer to county ownership
- Judge Bertram updated the court regarding the Kincaid Lake Rehabilitation meeting.
- Approved the dissolution of the Williamstown Lake Committee.
- Approved the annual $3,000 Waste Tire Grant.

Falmouth City Council casts crucial vote regarding purchase of Klee Farm

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

Falmouth City Council held a special called meeting on September 4, 2012 at 7:30 p.m. The single item on council's agenda was the Klee Farm Development Project.

The agreement between the city of Falmouth, Cox Construction and the Dollar General Stores recently expired. That document stated that Cox Construction would pay the Klee Family $600,000 for their farm of 43.5 acres. After that Cox Construction would keep five acres of the property on which they would build a store, a road and a parking lot. Then, Cox Construction would lease their property to the Dollar General Stores for their commercial use. As their part of the bargain the city of Falmouth agreed to purchase the remaining 38.5 acres of the Klee Farm from Cox Construction at a cost of $275,000 for the purpose of commercial development.

Falmouth has zoned the property for business use. The city has also paid a significant sum for environmental and archaeological studies, which cleared the land for development. Regarding a renewed agreement the Dollar General Stores wanted to restrict what type of businesses that could operate in the development area. They didn't want the city to sell to any type of sundry store, such as, Family Dollar, Dollar Tree, or Big Lots. They also didn't want any combination of pharmacy and sundry store, such as, CVS, Rite Aide or Walgreens. Falmouth Mayor Mark Hart had reservations about such a restrictive covenant and expressed his concerns to Cox Construction and the Dollar General Stores. Falmouth City Attorney Henry (Skip) Watson III negotiated with the Dollar General Stores over a period of time, but they stood firm on their need for the restrictions. Then, just before the council meeting on September 4, the Dollar General Stores offered this compromise: If the city would pay 30% of the cost to build a road to the store they would drop all restrictions and Falmouth could sell to whoever they wished. The cost to build the road from U.S. 27 to the new Dollar General Store was estimated to be $100,000.

Mayor Hart and Attorney Watson explained the situation to the council. The mayor said that the city had enough money in Road Aide Funds and state grants to pay the 30% on the road, but not if the cost exceeded the estimated $100,000. All the council members agreed to approve the city's contribution, but were adamant that the amount should stop at $30,000.

Attorney Watson read a resolution giving Mayor Hart the authority to sign the amended agreement. A motion was made to approve the resolution. A second was given to the motion and a roll call vote was taken: Mary Ann Pittman-(Yes), Darryl Ammerman-(Yes), Stan Love-(Yes) and Ernie Richie-(Yes).

Mayor Hart said in an interview on September 7 that he had signed the contract to purchase the Klee Farm on that very day. The city, he said, expected to close on the buy before the end of the month. The mayor said that shortly after the closing, construction would begin and the new Dollar General Store is expected to be in full operation in the early part of 2013, if not before.

Calendar set for General Assembly's 2013 session

The 2013 Regular Session of the Kentucky General Assembly is scheduled to begin on Jan. 8 and will last 30 legislative days.

As usual during an odd-numbered year, in which sessions are half as long as in even-numbered years, the session will have two parts. The first four days of the session – Jan. 8 to Jan. 11 – will focus on organizational work, such as electing legislative leaders, adopting rules of procedure and organizing committees. The introduction and consideration of legislation can also begin during this time.

The second part of the session begins on Feb. 5, with final adjournment scheduled for March 26.

Legislators will not meet in session on Feb. 18 in observance of Presidents' Day.

The veto recess – the period of time when lawmakers commonly return to their home districts to see which bills, if any, the governor vetoes – begins on March 12. Lawmakers will return to the Capitol on March 25 and 26 for the final two days of the session.

The 2013 session calendar can be viewed online at http://www.lrc.ky.gov/sch_vist/13RS_calendar.pdf

Pendleton County given Catalyst Award

Pendleton County was recognized and presented the "Catalyst Award" by the Kentucky Emergency Management Association Thursday, September 6 at the Emergency Services Conference Banquet for being an example to others in disaster response and recovery and for the presentations we have delivered at various locations in the state on our tornado response and recovery actions. Pendleton County Judge/Executive Henry Bertram, Director of Technology Michele Hamilton, and Emergency Management Coordinator Mike Moore were mentioned as making the presentations, but this award is the result of a total group effort from the Pendleton County team. It is an honor to be part of this team... this award recognizes the hard work, dedication and teamwork from everyone involved with our tornado response and the follow on recovery.

Let all Americans remember 9/11 with pride

Eleven years have past since the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 and the memory of that horrible day in American history lingers to haunt us all. When 19 terrorist hijacked four planes and destroyed the Twin Towers in New York, crashed into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia, and attempted to crash into the United States Capitol Building in Washington, D. C. their actions brought about the deaths of nearly 3,000 people and caused serious damage to the economy of Lower Manhattan and had a significant impact on global markets. Despite the intentions to bring down the United States and all we stand for, our nation rose above the destruction and the suffering and became stronger for it. Americans were drawn closer as they reached up and reached out in a common cause.

What to do in the garden in September

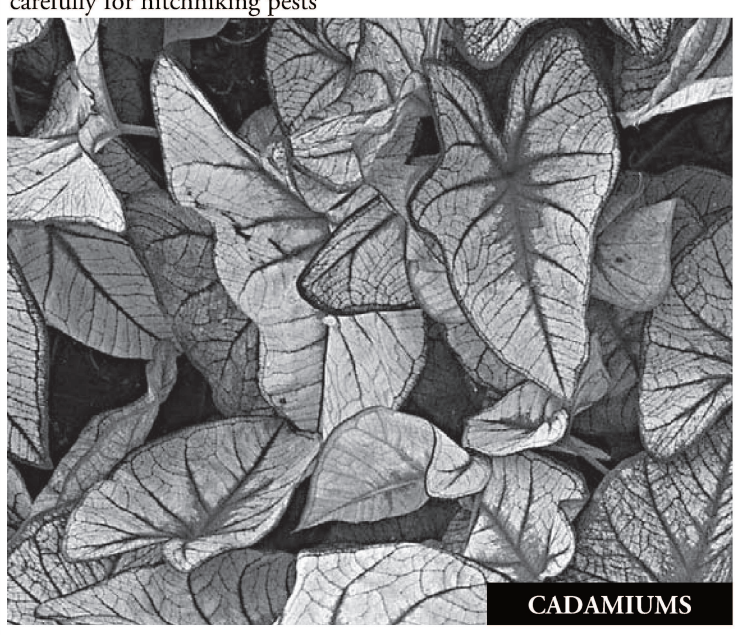

By Marie Iannotti, About.com Guide

September should bring relief to gardens in the Northern Hemisphere and signal the start of a new season for gardeners in areas that have been too warm for anything but hothouse tropicals, as well as southern hemisphere gardeners. So whether you are beginning the process of putting your garden to bed or gearing up for a fresh start, September can be one of the busiest months in the garden. Let's just hope the weather cooperates.

- Stop pruning and fertilizing
- Bring summer vacationing houseplants back indoors while the windows are still open. Check carefully for hitchhiking pests
- Start fall clean-up in the flower beds, cutting back anything that has finished blooming or is diseased
- Take cuttings to overwinter indoors
- Watch for frost warning and cover tender plants
- Photograph your gardens and containers for a record of the year's triumphs and frustrations
- Give the compost a last turn
- Divide and move perennials
- Dig and store tender bulbs like: dahlias, caladiums, cannas and tuberous begonias
- Start planting spring flowering bulbs
- Harvest remaining vegetables, including green tomatoes. (Tips for ripening green tomatoes.)
- Wait for a hard freeze before harvesting Brussels Sprouts
- Pick herbs for drying or freezing
- Cure winter squash for storage. Place in a cool, sheltered shady spot for about 1 month.
- Clean up fallen fruit
- Plant trees and shrubs. Keep well watered, if there isn't sufficient rain.
- Dispose of any diseased or infested plant debris, to avoid overwintering the problem
- Restart the vegetable garden. Start seeds of heat lovers like tomatoes and peppers (Tips for when to plant what.)
- Direct sow seeds of lettuce, greens, onions, peas, beans and broccoli
- Seed cool season annuals
- Plant fall bulbs
- Plant perennials and shrubs
- Keep fruits picked as they ripen
- Prune summer flowering shrubs

SOCIETY

September 11, 1837: Lewis Eades and Mary T. Birch were married in Pendleton County.

Ice ~ Wolfe exchange vows Sept. 29

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ice are happy to announce the upcoming marriage of their daughter Ms. Lindsey Ice to Mr. Mark Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wolfe. Lindsey and Mark will exchange vows with close friends and family on September 29 at Pendleton County Country Club in Butler. Invitation only.

Board of Education honors retirees and sets tax rates

In regular session on August 30 the Pendleton County Board of Education voted to set the tax rates for 2012. The rates for personal property and real estate will be 60.7/ 100 and the rate for motor vehicles will be 55.1/ 100. The rates were set after a presentation on the different options that were available to the board by Superintendent Anthony Strong. State law gives boards of education the opportunity to take a 4% increase in revenue each year. That rate would have set the rate at 62.9 cents on personal property and real estate.

The district also honored 21 employees that retired from last year. The total years of service to Pendleton County Schools were over 405 years. They were honored with a gift from the district in honor of their service and a reception followed in the media center at Southern Elementary.

Those recognized and not pictured above were: Jean Wood, 10, Gary Dearborn, 12, Tina Grigson, 12, Cliff Hart, 13, Michelle Caldwell, 17, Gloria Tomlin, 17, Anthony Baker, 22, Ruth King, 25, Garnet Marshall, 25, Tony Bentley, 27, Greg Williams, 28.5, Dawn Wilson, 32.5 and Rick Gaunder, 34.

"In preparing the budget for this year I heard the board say that they wanted to find ways to improve our financial position without raising taxes," Strong said.

"You asked for it and we have worked very hard to make that happen, and this year we will be ok, but in 2013-14 our budget will be even tighter."

Rates will go into effect with the tax bills that come out this fall.

In other business the board approved the following:

- Contract to provide lunches for the Head Start Program in Pendleton County.
- Set tuition for Non Resident Students
- Authorized the superintendent to approve expenditure for maintenance department.

Seven students named Sen. Jeff Green Scholars

Seven students from Pendleton County High School have been named Senator Jeff Green Scholars by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) for their outstanding academic performance in high school. Students earn this designation by achieving a 4.0 grade point average each year of high school and scoring at least a 28 composite on the ACT.

These students have also earned $2,500 a year in Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES) awards. Their awards may be renewed each year of college if they continue high scholastic achievement, making the total value of their KEES worth $10,000.

The title honors the late state Sen. Jeff Green of Mayfield, who served in the Kentucky General Assembly from 1992 to 1997.

Local students who earned this prestigious designation are Zachary Brinkman, Haley Hart, Andrew Keith, Andrew Moorhead, Tera Pierce, Brett Price and Savannah Schlueter.

KEES and other Kentucky student aid programs are administered by KHEAA. KEES awards are funded by net Kentucky lottery proceeds and may be used at most colleges and universities in Kentucky. In some cases, the award may be used at out-of-state schools if the major the student is pursuing is not available in Kentucky. No application is necessary for KEES awards, and students may access their KEES account information on www.kheaa.com by setting up a KHEAA account.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call (800) 928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

Youth football food drive at Wyatt's

The Pendleton County Youth football players and cheerleaders do a food drive in front of Wyatt's SuperValu from 11 a.m. - 4 p.m., September 15th. All proceeds benefit the Pendleton County Cooperative of Churches Emergency Food Pantry (at St. Vincent DePaul).

Kentucky Writing and Art Contests

With a new school year now underway, the search for Kentucky's finest youth writers and artists also begins. Students in grades 1-12 are encouraged to submit creative writing and artistic entries for the annual Conservation Writing and Art Contests sponsored by Kentucky Farm Bureau and the Kentucky Association of Conservation Districts.

This year's competition, featuring a Writing Contest for grades 6-12 and the Jim Claypool Conservation Art Contest for grades 1-5, is themed "Kentucky's Forests: Branching Out." While creativity is a key component to the contests, students will be challenged to think about the environment around them and the efforts they can take to help preserve it. Participants are tasked to share their ideas through short essays and artwork, persuading their readers and viewers to take action toward wildlife conservation efforts.

A better understanding of the benefits that forest conservation brings to Kentucky's landscape is something that can be enjoyed for generations to come, but this competition also rewards its participants for the time and effort required to create their entries. County-level winners receive a $25 award, regional winners get $50 and the state winners collect $250 for first place, $150 for second place and $50 for third place.

In last year's competition (focusing on Kentucky's wildlife), students from 89 different counties submitted a total of 17,189 writing entries while creating an additional 42,924 art entries from 98 counties.

Entries for the 2012 competition must be received at the student's local conservation district office by December 1. To learn more about the contests and download resource materials – including a teacher's guide, contest entry form and report forms – visit kyfb.com/federation or conservation.ky.gov.

Expressions of Freedom artist contest FAQs

The National Park Service is approaching its 100th anniversary in 2016. To prepare for the next century of Service, the National Park Service and its partners have committed to A Call to Action, including "fostering civil dialogue about the stories of the civil rights movement" and "showcasing the meanings of parks to new audiences" through arts. For more information on A Call to Action visit www.nps.gov/calltoaction.

Young artists are encouraged to creatively explore the relationship between their own expression of freedom and: the significance of the Emancipation Proclamation and the Civil War; the struggles of the American Civil Rights movement; and a path to freedom and equality reflected in a national park service site.

The National Park Foundation is the official charity of America's national parks, raises private funds that directly aid, support an enrich all 397 national park sites across the country. www.nationalparks.org

The mission of the African American Experience Fund is to connect all Americans to the role of African Americans in our nation's history by raising funds and supporting partnerships and programs at national park sites that celebrate and tell the story of African American history and culture.

The National Park Service is charged with providing for the preservation of parks "in such a manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations."

OPINION

"Government's first duty is to protect the people, not run their lives."
~Ronald Reagan

Hopefully we as Americans never take for granted the wonderful privilege of voting

What once was a fought for opportunity of freedom has become a resented duty or even worse an often neglected privilege among Americans. With many things that come too easily also comes neglect.

Before the hard fought and costly battle to break free from Great Britain, there was no citizenry or government to vote for or within. Then after years of struggle, America became its own nation and a privileged few could vote.

The United States presidential election of 1788–1789 was the first presidential election in the United States of America and the only election to ever take place in a year that is not a multiple of four. The election took place following the ratification of the United States Constitution in 1788. In this election, George Washington was elected for the first of his two terms as president, and John Adams became the first vice-president.

Before this election, the United States had no chief executive. Under the previous system agreed to under Articles of Confederation, the national government was headed by the Confederation Congress, which had a ceremonial presiding officer and several executive departments, but no independent executive branch.

In this election, the enormously popular Washington essentially ran unopposed. The only real issue to be decided was who would be chosen as vice-president. Under the system then in place, each elector cast two votes; if a person received a vote from a majority of the electors, that person became president, and the runner-up became vice-president. All 69 electors cast one vote each for Washington. Their other votes were divided among eleven other candidates; John Adams received the most, becoming vice-president. The Twelfth Amendment, ratified in 1804, would change this procedure, requiring each elector to cast distinct votes for president and vice-president.

The issue of voting rights in the United States has been contentious throughout the country's history. Eligibility to vote in the U.S. is determined by both Federal and state law. Currently, only citizens can vote in U.S. elections (although this has not always been the case). Who is (or who can become) a citizen is governed on a national basis by federal law. In the absence of a federal law or constitutional amendment, each state is given considerable discretion to establish qualifications for suffrage and candidacy within its own jurisdiction.

When the country was founded, in most states, only white men with real property (land) or sufficient wealth for taxation were permitted to vote. Freed African Americans could vote in four states. Unpropertied white men, almost all women, and all other people of color were denied the franchise. At the time of the American Civil War, most white men were allowed to vote, whether or not they owned property. Literacy tests, poll taxes, and even religious tests were used in various places, and most white women, people of color, and Native Americans still could not vote.

When the 14th Amendment was passed in 1866, it guaranteed citizenship to the former slaves and changing them in the eyes of the law from three-fifths of a person to whole persons. Then, in 1869, when the 15th Amendment was passed, it guaranteed black men the right to vote with women of all races still unable to vote.

A parallel, yet separate, movement was that for women's suffrage. Outstanding leaders of the suffrage movement included Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton. In some ways this, too, could be said to have grown out of the American Civil War, as women had been strong leaders of the abolition movement. Middle- and upper-class women generally became more politically active in the northern tier during and after the war.

In 1848 the first women's rights convention was held in Seneca Falls, New York, 68 women and 32 men signed the declaration of sentiment which defined the women's rights movement. The first convention for women took place in 1850. It was held in Worcester, Massachusetts, attracting more than 1000 participants. Since then, the national convention was held yearly through 1860.

When Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton formed the National Women Suffrage Association, their goal was to help women gain voting rights through the Constitution. Also, in 1869 Lucy Stone and Henry Blackwell formed the American Women Suffrage Association (AWSA). However, the (AWSA) focused on gaining voting rights for women through the amendment process. Although these two organization were fighting for the same cause it was not until 1890 that they merged to form the National American Women Suffrage Association (NAWSA). After the merger of the two organizations, the (NAWSA) waged a state-by-state campaign to obtain voting rights for women.

Wyoming was the first state in which women were able to vote, although it was a condition of the transition to statehood. Colorado was the first established state to allow women to vote on the same basis as men. Some other states also extended the franchise to women before the Constitution was amended. With ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment, women were granted the right to vote in time to participate in the Presidential election of 1920.

A third voting rights movement was one in the 1960s to lower the voting age from twenty-one to eighteen. This movement was given far greater impetus by the Vietnam War, as it was noted that most of the young men who were being drafted to fight in it were too young to have any voice in the selection of the leaders who were sending them to fight. This, too, had previously been a state issue, as several states, notably Georgia, Kentucky, and Hawaii, had already allowed voting at a younger age than twenty-one. The Twenty-sixth Amendment, ratified in 1971, required all states to set a voting age no higher than eighteen.

How strange it seems in the year of 2012 to think of anyone not being allowed to vote because of their race or sex. Even for those who are excited to vote their first time upon turning eighteen it is difficult to imagine having to wait three years more for that privilege. Even harder for those of us who live in the nation of freedom, we cannot fathom having no rights to vote at all as so many people do in other countries.

All around the world, people of many nations are still fighting for the freedoms we enjoy daily in the United States of America. As November approaches, don't pause to consider whether or not you will vote, but rather listen, study and learn, and decide how you will vote. Right or wrong, exercise your privilege to vote, a privilege hard won at great costs. Even today, that privilege is maintained at great sacrifice from our men and women in uniform. Make it worth all they give; get out and vote!

If you haven't yet registered to vote, the League of Women Voters will be waiting to sign you up at this year's Kentucky Wool Fest.

Jack Wright running for 2012 Falmouth City Council

My name is Jack Wright and I am a candidate for Falmouth City Council. I am a life-long Pendletonian, a resident Falmouthian and currently reside at 330 Reservoir Hill. For 36 years I have enjoyed the pleasure of marriage to Cynthia Schlueter Wright, also a life-long Pendletonian. We have been blessed with five children, five grandchildren and another grandchild on the way.

For the past 19 years I have served this community as the Economic Development Director for Falmouth and Pendleton County. Earlier this year I announced my retirement from the above-mentioned position effective December 1, 2012. Although I am retiring from that position, I still desire to contribute to the community. Therefore, my candidacy for Falmouth City Council.

I proudly graduated from Pendleton County High School in 1966. I enlisted in the United States Army in 1968 (during the Vietnam War era) and served a three-year military commitment to my country with a one-year (1969-70) Vietnam tour of duty.

Prior to assuming the duties of the above-mentioned economic development position, from 1990 to 1993, I served the community as a Magistrate with the Pendleton County Fiscal Court. It was my first experience in the political field, I thoroughly enjoyed it, and have since desired to rejoin the challenging leadership endeavor.

My experience as County Magistrate and Economic Development Director has provided the opportunity to develop excellent working relationships with, and knowledge of, several local, state and federal government agencies. These relationships should be beneficial to the city when I am elected and serve as your councilperson.

Due to suffering from Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD), a debilitating respiratory issue, I shall not be able to participate in the typical door-to-door campaign activities. However, I look forward to meeting the voters of Falmouth at other functions that might occur during the campaign season. Also, feel free to contact me at 859-654-5511, or email to (jack_19366@msn.com), anytime to discuss my political philosophies as they relate to the City of Falmouth.

Jack Wright

On November 6, I ask the voters of Falmouth to "Vote for Jack" for City Council.

Remember

Cleanup of the World Trade Center site was completed in May 2001 and the Pentagon was repaired within a year. Today, a glorious memorial stands to remember those who we lost on that terrible day. A memorial that stands also as a symbol of the strength of our nation. A symbol to the world and to any who might attempt to take away the freedoms of others.

Freedom will not be stopped. In the hearts of people there beats the desire to be free and in the spirit of mankind there is the natural instinct to reach out and lift up those who fall prey to any who would threaten the freedom of another. Yes, we have suffered and we have grieved and even today we feel the pain of those cruel attacks on September 11. But we are stronger for the adversity and we have shown our enemies that Americans stand united against outside forces that dare to threaten our way of life. We have shown the world that we will always stand as one against our foes. Let us remember 9/11 proudly with our heads held high and in our hearts the knowledge that freedom lives.

Operation B.L.U.E. Lights nets 3,500 DUI and drug arrests

Operation B.L.U.E. Lights was the summer enforcement campaign for the Kentucky State Police that began June 1 and concluded Labor Day weekend. The campaign was designed to bring attention to unsafe driving behaviors in an effort to reduce traffic deaths on Kentucky roadways. The agency held 1,640 safety checkpoints across the state that produced 2,072 DUI arrests, 1,462 drug arrests and the apprehension of 41 fugitives. There were 8,932 seat belt citations written and 933 child seat violations during this time period.

KSP Operations Major Mike Crawford was pleased with the results of the campaign and said the agency will continue efforts like this to curb the number of fatalities on Kentucky roadways.

"No matter where you traveled during the summer, the high visibility patrols and traffic safety checkpoints reminded motorists to exercise caution when operating motor vehicles," he said. "The bottom line is preventing traffic crashes and saving lives."

B.L.U.E. is an acronym designed to remind drivers to focus on these driving-related attributes:
B = Basic traveling safety and vehicle maintenance
L = Lower speed in work zone areas
U = Undivided attention on the road and look for motorcycles
E = Enforcement of speed, DUI and occupant protection

Citizens can contribute to highway safety by reporting erratic drivers to the Kentucky State Police toll-free at 1-800-222-5555. Callers will remain anonymous and should give a description of the vehicle, location, direction of travel and license number if possible.

HIGHLIGHTS

September 11, 2001 - Terrorists hijack a passenger plane and crash it into the Pentagon causing the death of 125 people.

The September 11 Memorial is dedicated to all the lives lost in the 2001 terrorists' attacks on Americans

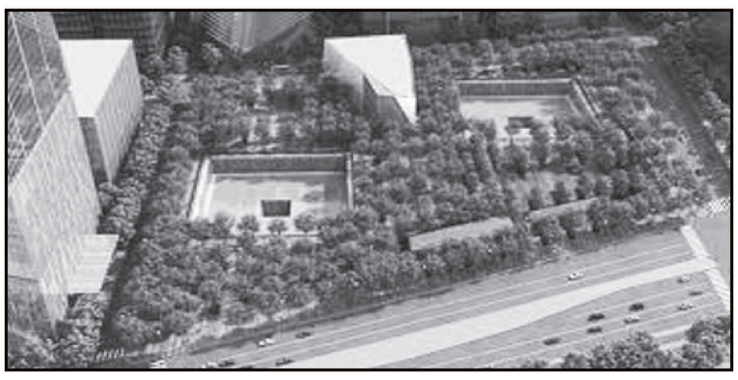

Though years have past, no American of age to realize the enormity of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 has forgotten the suffering and destruction of that day. Though many experienced it all only through images projected on a television screen, the horror of the actions of a few resulting in great agony to so many was unbelievable and heartbreaking. There was much pain in personal loss for thousands and as a nation for millions in the assault on our country.

The September 11 attacks were a series of four suicide attacks that were committed in the United States on September 11, 2001, coordinated to strike the areas of New York City and Washington, D.C. On that Tuesday morning, 19 terrorists from the Islamist militant group al-Qaeda hijacked four passenger jets. The hijackers intentionally piloted two of those planes, American Airlines Flight 11 and United Airlines Flight 175, into the North and South towers of the World Trade Center complex in New York City; both towers collapsed within two hours.

The hijackers also intentionally crashed American Airlines Flight 77 into the Pentagon in Arlington, Virginia, and intended to pilot the fourth hijacked jet, United Airlines Flight 93, into the United States Capitol Building in Washington, D.C.; however, the plane crashed into a field near Shanksville, Pennsylvania after its passengers attempted to take control of the jet from the hijackers. Nearly 3,000 people died in the attacks, including the 246 civilians and 19 hijackers aboard the four planes, none of whom survived. So that none might forget a memorial has been designed and put in place where the Twin Towers once stood in New York City.

The National September 11 Memorial is a tribute of remembrance and honor to those who died on September 11, 2001, as well as the six people killed in the World Trade Center bombing in February 1993. This memorial proposes a space that resonates with the feelings of loss and absence that were generated by the destruction of the World Trade Center and the taking of thousands of lives on September 11, 2001 and February 26, 1993.

The names of every person who died in the 2001 and 1993 attacks are inscribed into bronze panels edging the Memorial pools, a powerful reminder of the largest loss of life resulting from a foreign attack on American soil and the greatest single loss of rescue personnel in American history. Architect Michael Arad and landscape architect Peter Walker created the Memorial design selected from a global design competition that included more than 5,200 entries from 63 nations.

The Memorial's twin reflecting pools are each nearly an acre in size and feature the largest man made waterfalls in the North America. The pools sit within the footprints where the Twin Towers once stood. It is located in a field of trees that is interrupted by two large voids containing recessed pools. A cascade of water that describes the perimeter of each square feeds the pools with a continuous stream. They are large voids, open and visible reminders of the absence.

The surface of the memorial plaza is punctuated by the linear rhythms of rows of deciduous trees, forming informal clusters, clearings and groves. This surface consists of a composition of stone pavers, plantings and low ground cover. Through its annual cycle of rebirth, the living park extends and deepens the experience of the memorial.

The Memorial Plaza is one of the most eco-friendly plazas ever constructed. More than 400 trees are planned for the plaza, surrounding the Memorial's two massive reflecting pools. Its design conveys a spirit of hope and renewal, and creates a contemplative space separate from the usual sights and sounds of a bustling metropolis.

Swamp white oak trees create a rustling canopy of leaves over the plaza. This grove of trees bring green rebirth in the spring, provide cooling shade in the summer and show seasonal color in fall. A small clearing in the grove, known as the Memorial Glade, designates a space for gatherings and special ceremonies.

Surrounding the pools on bronze parapets are the names. The enormity of this space and the multitude of names underscore the vast scope of the destruction. Standing there at the water's edge, looking at a pool of water that is flowing away into an abyss, a visitor to the site can sense that what is beyond this parapet edge is inaccessible.

The memorial plaza is designed to be a mediating space; it belongs both to the city and to the memorial. Located at street level to allow for its integration into the fabric of the city, the plaza encourages the use of this space by New Yorkers on a daily basis. The memorial grounds will not be isolated from the rest of the city; they will be a living part of it.

The above description is according to a survey made Otey C. Brabston, Registered Land Surveyor #3191 on December 22, 2005. This being a part of the property as described in Deed book 207, Page 144 of the Pendleton County Clerk's records at Falmouth, Kentucky.

Being the same property conveyed to E.P. Dennis, a single person, from D. Lee Becker, a single person, by deed dated May 12, 2006 and recorded on October 20, 2006 in Deed Book 281, Page 382, Pendleton County Clerk's Office.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $107,291.44, together with interest at the rate of 6.625 percent per annum from December 29, 2011 until paid; plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and Plaintiff's costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee in the amount of $1,150.00 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the mortgage instrument.
The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;

2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;

3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;

4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;

5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;

6) The purchaser shall be required to purchase fire and extended coverage insurance on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is paid in full to the extent of the court appraised value of said improvements or the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, with a loss clause payable to the Master Commissioner of the Pendleton Circuit Court or the Plaintiff herein.

7) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;

8) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time; and

9) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a) Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
b) Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws or regulations;
c) Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

"Well, Woody, it looks as if all your numbers are higher than last year," the doctor said as he went over my test results.

"That's awesome!" I exclaimed, puffing out my chest.

Doc Albert chuckled before she spoke. "Actually Woody, it's not like exams in school where higher numbers mean better grades. With medical exams, higher numbers aren't usually a good thing."

"I don't understand," I said, looking back and forth from my parents to the doctor.

"Well, your blood sugar, your cholesterol and your weight are all higher than they were last year. Those three things tell me you aren't eating right or exercising enough. And for you to be healthy, that has to change."

I felt a tear come to my eye, but I didn't want to cry in front of my parents, my sister or the vet, so I played it cool.

"I must have allergies too," I said, wiping my eyes and drying my sniffles.

"It's not the end of the world, and you're certainly not in trouble, Woody," Doc Albert assured me. "It's a wake-up call. It's your body telling you to treat it better."

"What did you score on your tests, Chloe?" I asked my sister.

Doc Albert answered for her. "Though Chloe hasn't gained any weight, her cholesterol and her blood sugar were also a tiny bit higher than last year."

"What is co, co … ."

"Cholesterol," Doc Albert said, trying to help Chloe pronounce the difficult word.

"Yes, cholesterol," Chloe repeated. "What is it?"

I was wondering about that, too, so I was happy my sister had asked.

"Cholesterol is a waxy, fatlike substance made in the liver and other cells, and found in foods like eggs and meat," Doc Albert explained.

"Our body needs cholesterol to work properly, but if we get too much cholesterol it can clog up our arteries and make it harder for our heart to pump blood."

I thought about my eating habits and all the times I helped Chloe finish her dinner. Then I thought about my favorite foods – Vanilla Woofers, pupsicles, popcorn, puparoni pizza, bacon, ice cream, pudding pups, meat, cheese, eggs, the very thing Doc Albert said was filled with cholesterol.

"Sure I have a hearty appetite, but I'm a busy guy," I said to my doctor, trying to convince my parents and myself. "How many other black and tan wiener dogs from Kentucky do you know who write books and travel around the beautiful Bluegrass State with their wiener dog sister and Mom and Dad? Have you ever met another dachshund who spends his days in schools and libraries talking to children and adults about keeping a positive attitude, being respectful and working hard to achieve their goals? I work hard – and I need my strength to keep going. I need food to run just like a car needs gasoline to run," I said, proud of my point, hoping it didn't come off as disrespectful.

"That's a great point," Doc Albert said. "But would you fill your car up with apple juice or water?"

"Of course not!" I answered as we all laughed. "It wouldn't run, silly."

"Well, the food you are putting in your body is just like filling your car up with apple juice. It might fill the tank, but you won't go anywhere," Doc explained.

As valid as I thought my argument was, Doc Albert made a much stronger point.

"Sit tight while I get your prescriptions ready, pups," Doc ordered as she left the exam room. I hoped the medicine wasn't some nasty, smelly stuff that made me hold my nose so I could swallow it.

Doc Albert returned carrying a large brown cardboard box, securely taped, that was bigger than Chloe and me. "Here you go, pups," Doc said as she handed the box to Dad. The top of the box read "Rx for Woody and Chloe. Take as directed."

"What does Rx mean?" I asked, trying to pronounce the word that didn't have a vowel in the middle of it.

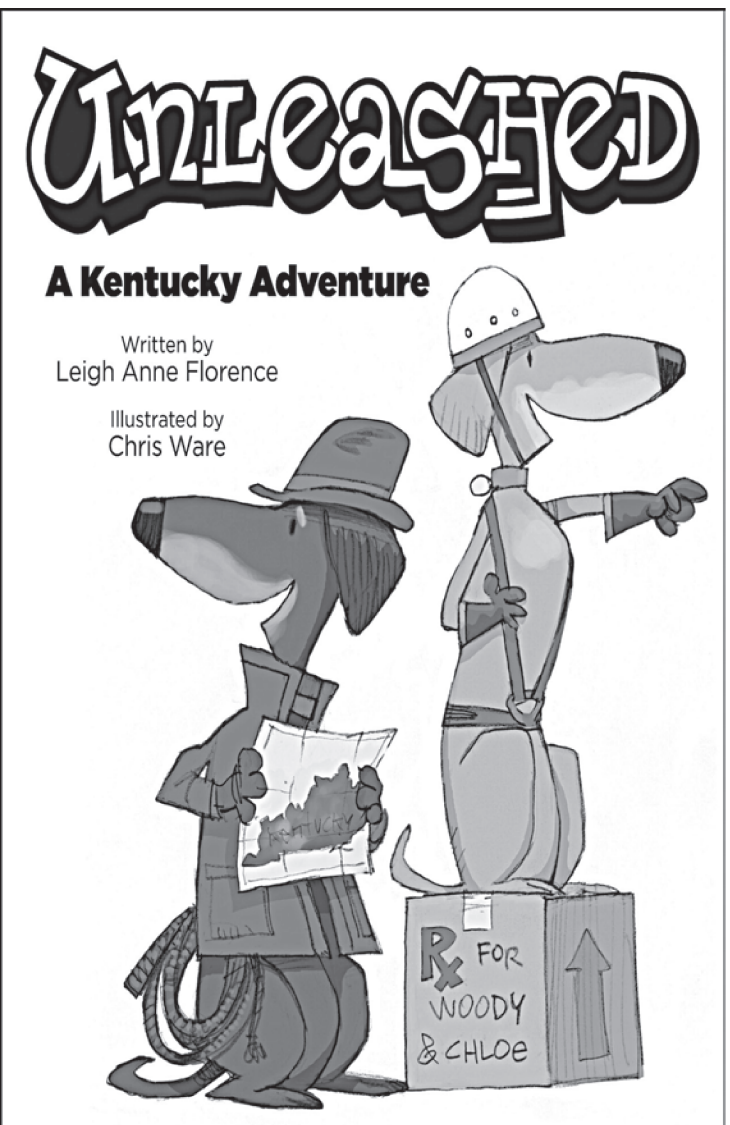

"Rx is an abbreviation for medical prescription," Mom explained. "And you know what a prescription is. It's a recipe for getting well."

I didn't know what was in the box, but one thing was for sure. It was the biggest recipe I had ever seen.

New kindergarten screening vital

Kentucky schools have routinely screened children around the time they enter kindergarten in order to establish a performance baseline for each child and to prepare teachers to better meet individual needs right from the start. A quick screening of children's developmental abilities and their ability to adapt to the structure of the school setting provides invaluable diagnostic information for kindergarten teachers. The goal of screening is to prepare teachers to meet each child "where they are" when they arrive on their road to mastery of kindergarten content and to establish a foundation for continued success in elementary school and beyond.

Fortunately, Kentucky is taking steps to implement one common kindergarten readiness screener accompanied by best-practice guidelines for all schools. This is a collaborative effort between the Governor's Office of Early Childhood and the Kentucky Department of Education and is directly tied to the recommendations of the Governor's Task Force on Early Childhood Development and Education and the Transforming Education in Kentucky Task Force.

In recent years, Pendleton County Schools' benefitted from the use of a screener – in fact the same screener Kentucky is now adopting statewide. The information we received from the screener helped us serve each child individually from the very the start. Next year, our school district will implement the state screener along with all 174 school districts. We believe this effort will add to the strength of our new Kindergarten Academy – helping prepare ALL children for early success in school.

The value of a common screener is twofold. Screening provides valuable information to schools and families to help serve each child appropriately so that they are on track to reach reading proficiency in elementary school. Screening also provides valuable information about the quality of developmental experiences a child has had prior to entering kindergarten. These experiences may include public preschool, childcare, Head Start and early intervention services like HANDS home visiting and First Steps. A common screener, used statewide, will provide important information to evaluate and continuously improve our public investment in early childhood programs and it will provide a great deal of 'portable' diagnostic information about young children who often move from district to district.

In addition, the data gathered from the screener will provide critical information back to home communities so they can evaluate their efforts to ensure ALL children come to school with the foundation necessary to be successful. State- and local-level data from the screener, along with other early childhood data, can also help policymakers and taxpayers verify that public funding for early childhood and elementary programming makes a difference.

Finally, a major component of Kentucky's new Unbridled Learning accountability model for the state's public schools is individual student growth. The screener provides important baseline data for that measurement as we strive to ensure reading proficiency by the end of 3rd grade for all of our learners. Reading proficiency is, in turn, foundational to student success as they progress from end-of-primary to intermediate, middle, high school and beyond. In fact, we believe that early reading success is fundamental in our efforts to ensure that every Pendleton County student graduates career- and college-ready.

The importance of early childhood development and education cannot be overstated. The brain grows more rapidly in the first 3 to 5 years than at any other time in life. Multiple research disciplines, including neuroscience, social science and economics, have all documented the critical importance of high-quality early childhood initiatives. We know, for instance, when children who need extra help are identified early, the chances that they will need special education services in the future are lessened.

While Kentucky continues to make significant strides in education, there is still much work to be done. According to Education Week's 2012 "Quality Counts" report, 13 states ranked above Kentucky in overall grades and scores. Of these states, 10 have kindergarten screening assessments under development or already in place. As one measure among multiple measures, a common readiness screener is a critical tool necessary for Kentucky to make continuous, large-scale educational improvement.

When done well, investments in early childhood education, including the use of such tools as the common kindergarten screener, will provide a significant return on investment across the commonwealth. Kentucky children will receive appropriate, timely interventions from the start that will ultimately ensure their long-term success. Giving teachers valuable assessment tools to help them better identify each child's developmental needs is an appropriate and long-overdue investment of public funds.

The Pendleton High School cheerleaders spent the weekend working on choreography at Spirit Athletics gym in Florence, KY. The competition season begins the first week of December and by then they will have 2 1/2 minutes packed full of of jumping, stunting, tumbling, cheering, and dancing. They had a little bit of fun too playing lazer tag and going to dinner as a team. They walked away tired but with smiles on their faces, as they are hopeful to be able to perform the material that has been created for them. They hope to perform the routine at a basketball game in December so their fans can watch their hard work. The CheerCats season is a long one in the first year of being KHSAA sponsored. They start on the July 15th opening date for fall sports but don't finish till winter sports are complete. Besides competing in a football sideline competition during the football season, they will also compete at the Jingle Bell Classic at Grant County High School in early December, at the KHSAA Regional at Montgomery Co High School in mid-December, host the Cheer Cats Cup at Pendleton Co High School on January 5th, hopefully compete at KHSAA State at WKU in Bowling Green in late January and in the NKCCA at Ryle High School in early March.

Wildcats football drop 0-4 for the season

By Bruce Reller, Jr., Reporter

The Pendleton County Wildcats are 0-4 on the season after losing games to Cincinnati County Day and Morgan County the last couple of weeks.

The Wildcats first took on Cincinnati Country Day. It was their home opener on Friday, August 31. Pendleton County was down in the first half but came back in the third quarter and took the lead.

"Our guys played great second half. We just put ourselves into too big of a hole first half to come back from," Wildcat head coach Terry Brown said. "We fought back to take the lead but couldn't hang onto the lead."

Pendleton eventually lost the game 32-22, losing their second consecutive close game and third straight overall.

The Wildcats tried to get back on track when they went on the road to take on Morgan County last Saturday, September 8. However, it wasn't meant to be as Morgan County easily won the game 54-12.

"We ran the opening kickoff back but it went downhill from there," Brown explained. "Our one bright spot this year has been our return game. We have had five kickoffs for touchdowns in four games."

Pendleton County junior Kyle Silbersack has three of those kickoff touchdowns and senior Austin Pyles has two for the Wildcats.

PC will return home this week. They will battle with Bishop Brossart this Friday at 7 p.m. It is also Homecoming for the Wildcats. Good luck Cats!

Pendleton County youth football chalking up victories

Pendleton County Midgets beat Grant County Blue 28-6 in their first regular season game. The Midgets played great on both sides of the ball. The defense shut down Grant County until late in the fourth quarter. The defensive play was led by Colton Turner on the line, who created a lot of pressure in the backfield. Ethan Verst had the team's first defensive score by stripping the ball from the quarterback and running for a 35 yard touchdown. The offense had a good game putting up three touchdowns - one rushing touchdown each by Ethan Verst, Logan Hutchison and Mitchell McElroy. Chance Pollard had his first ever points via rushing an extra point.

In their second game of the season, they posted a 20-6 victory against Gallatin County. The Midgets had a great game on offense and defense. The defense was led by Colton Turner with 12 tackles. The offense was led by Ethan Verst with 144 yds rushing and 2 rushing TD's, along with Jasaiah Stockton who had his first rushing TD.

The Mighty Pros played hard throughout the game, but dropped to 0-2 with the recent loss to Gallatin County 25-6. The Mighty Pros were led offensively by Tyler Volz who ran for a touchdown, and Drew Duff who had several nice runs over 15 yards.

The Wildcats defense was led by Tredyn Thomas who came out of linebacker position to make a couple good stops in the back field. Leevon Perkins held a tight corner, making several key tackles to hold back Gallatins powerful offense.

The fifth and sixth grade Wildcats evened their season's record at 1-1 by beating Gallatin County 28-0 on our home field. The Wildcats had an outstanding game both defensively and offensively across their entire 31 player roster.

All three teams return home on September 16 for a matchup against the Grant County Gold squads. Games will be played at the Pendleton County Athletic Park, with the first game starting at 1:30pm. Come on out and cheer on your home team.

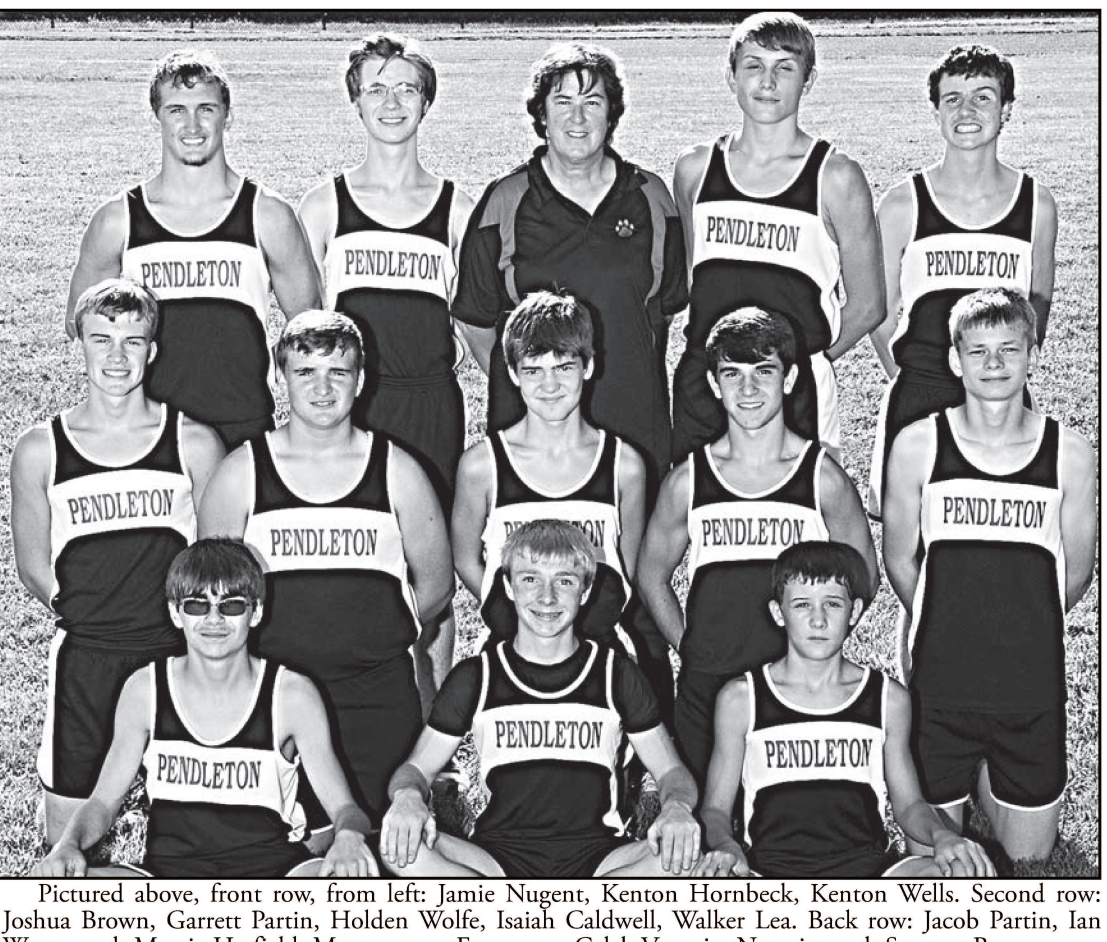

Cross country places at Ryle High invitationals

The Pendleton County High School and Sharp Middle School cross country season is off to a great start! Both teams traveled to Ripley, Ohio on August 25 for their first meet of the season. Despite the sweltering heat and grueling course, all teams did well. The high school boys placed third and the girls placed fifth. The middle school boys placed third and the girls placed fourth. Montgomery Franxman medaled in the high school boys' race witha sixth place finish and Bryan Howell medaled in the middle school boys' race with an impressive second place finish.

The next stop for the teams was the Ryle Invitational on September 1. This was a huge meet with over 35 teams in attendance. Even with the large amount of competitors many of Pendleton's runners achieved new personal best times. Overall, the varsity boys team placed 15th and the JV boys placed 14th. Varsity girls finished in 18th place. The middle school girls and boys teams both finished in 8th place for their runs. Bryan Howell medaled with a sixth place finish. Good job runners and good luck in your upcoming meets!

Wendy's PCHS Heisman Applications due October 2

Since 1994, the Wendy's High School Heisman Program has honored more than 250,000 of the nation's most esteemed high school seniors in partnership with the Heisman Memorial Trophy® Committee. The leadership award-honorees are well-rounded young men and woman who excel in learning, performing, and leading in the class room, on the field and in the community.

Like The Heisman Memorial Trophy, the Wendy's program believes in the pursuit of athletic and academic excellence with integrity. And in addition to honoring student accomplishments, the Wendy's High School Heisman Program inspires all future high school students to pursue their higher education goals.

Every year, the Wendy's High School Heisman Program and The Heisman Memorial Trophy team up to recognize our nation's most esteemed high school Seniors. The culmination of this process takes place in December in conjunction with the National Heisman Memorial Trophy presentation during Heisman Weekend in New York City. It's here where Wendy's selects its National High School Heisman Winners during a broadcast on ESPN networks. This partnership ensures that high school winners enjoy the prestige of national recognition for their tremendous achievements.

Seniors, Class of 2013, who have at least a "B" grade average and participate in at least one school-sponsored sport can apply online in just a few easy steps. Visit WendysHeisman.com for details on how to apply. Online applications are due on Oct 2nd by 5 p.m. central standard time.

Youth football/cheerleading at Butler Music Festival

The Pendleton County Youth Football players and cheerleaders are hosting a Walking Taco booth at the Butler Music Festival from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. on September 22. Please come out to support the Butler Music Festival and the Pendleton County Youth Football organization.

In addition, the Youth Football Program hosts Owen County on Sunday, September 30 at 1, 2:30 and 4 p.m.

Have a Walking Taco while enjoying the good music at the Butler Music Festival and then come out and cheer along with the cheer squads while the Wildcats play a little football.

Cody Hanser, junior, playing his best game of the season, defends the ball against the leading scorer for Scott High School.

Wildcats run out of steam late, fall to Scott High

By: Sam McClanahan, Reporter

In a season plagues by injuries to her team and Mother Nature doing her part to disrupt the schedule, Wildcats head soccer coach Lisa Feltner continues to look for the silver lining.

Last week, a much-anticipated matchup with longtime rival and state powerhouse Brossart was called off not once, but twice. The originally scheduled clash was set to take place last tuesday, but impending bad weather delayed the game to the following day. In yet another twist of misfortune, a scheduling conflict with the referee's forced the game to be postponed yet again and a make-up date is tentatively scheduled for later this month.

In what would end up being a nine-day layoff between games, the 'Cats finally took the field last saturday when the team traveled to face Scott High. The Eagles, led by NKY leading scorer, sophomore Luke Treadway; got off to a fast start as Treadway netted a pair of goals to put Scott ahead 2-0 in the first 10 minutes. The Wildcats, featuring the area's second leading scorer, senior Aven Harper; rallied to take the lead going into halftime as Harper scored three times. The two teams battled back and forth in the second half as Harper and Treadway matched each other shot-for-shot, the two top scorer's would finish the evening with four goals each.

With the game knotted at four goals apiece, the Eagles went on to score two more times in the games final two minutes to take a 6-4 victory.

"We played an amazing game," said coach Feltner. "Our effort was as good as we've had all season, but we just ran out of steam in those last five minutes," she continued.

Feltner went on to note the effort of numerous players, including junior Cody Hanser, who put together his finest performance of the season on the defensive side of the ball. Senior Jacob Farwell, who is playing through a fractured wrist, continues to add leadership and depth to the backfield while juniors Travis Brinkman and Max Dewald bring solid passing and log heavy minutes for a team that has had to endure numerous injuries to many key players.

This week, the 'Cats host St. Patrick on tuesday evening at 6 p.m. and will travel to square off against Dixie Heights on thursday at 7:30 p.m. Coach Feltner also added that on September 18, in a home game to be held at Sharp Middle School against Campbell County, a banner will be unveiled to commemorate the 2008 Wildcat club that made a magical run to the state tournament. All former players, stat keepers, parents and fans alike are invited to come celebrate and take part in the festivities.

Pendleton Wildcats down Camels on the links

The Wildcats did what a good athletic host team should do. Provide a nice play for the other team to compete but then beat them. With Campbell County visiting the Pendleton Country Club, the Cats welcomed them and then proceeded to beat them PC 164 CC 173, a solid 9-stroke victory.

Lane Weaver continued his strong play earning his third low medalist honors of the season with a 1 under 35 for his third round this season under par.

"I feel Lane has a strong chance of taking Low Medalist in the region....that course (Houston Oaks) fits his game." Coach Ron Stinson pointed out about his senior golfers. "Cody Kirsch also handles the region tournament course well."

Cody fired a 39 against Campbell County to give PC a strong 1-2 punch. Lance Jones, 43, and Wyatt Hatton's 47 were the other two team scores.

Wildcat Kyle Silbersack named player of the week

By Bruce Reller, Jr., Reporter

Wildcat junior Kyle Silbersack was named one of Cincinnati Enquirer's Players of the Week for his game against Ludlow High School on Friday, August 24.

Silbersack accounted for 427 all-purpose yards and six touchdowns. He also had 12 rushes for 202 yards and three touchdowns and caught two passes for 89 yards and a touchdown.

Silbersack even had four returns for 136 yards and a touchdown and also had an interception on defense. He was a busy guy in the Ludlow game.

The Wildcats lost the game 48-37 to Ludlow despite a big comeback in the second half. But if it wasn't for Silbersack, the game wouldn't have been that close. Congratulations Kyle!

Pendleton County Ladycats trying to end a losing streak

By: Rachel Turner, Reporter

The Ladycats travelled to bowling green to compete in the Purples Classic Tournament on Friday, August 29. The first match was played later that day against Ballard County. The Ladycats would lose in a score of 1-4. The lone goal was scored by Senior, Tori Fitzpatrick with an assist from Junior, Katelyn Meadows.

The next two matches would be played the following day, Saturday, September 1. The first game was against bowling green. The Ladycats would take another loss in a score of 0-7. The Ladycats keeper Junior, Katie Gaskins saved over 40 shots taken. The second game was played against Bethlehem. The Ladycats would continue their losing streak with a score of 0-6.

Over the weekend the Ladycats were short players, due to sickness and injury, and had to rotate into different positions. They tried to adjust but couldn't pull it together. The effort was there but they had to play more defensively against the quicker teams and were unable to transition to offense.

Tori Fitzpatrick was the only senior to attend the trip. She showed her leadership abilities by talking well with her teammates on and off the field and scored the only goal of the trip.

Kaitlyn Meadows assisted in the goal and displayed strong effort in the midfield position. Michaela Wright stepped up and started for the Ladycats over the weekend. She worked hard in getting back with her mark and displayed nothing but her best. Hannah Fields transitioned well as an outside defender in a flat back four. She was able to trust her goalie better by making the correct passes back and always placed pressure on the ball. Chelsea Brossart made a transition to the flat back four and to a center mid. She worked well in all spots playing aggressively. Katie Gaskins got quite the work out in the goalie position over the weekend as she saw and blocked nearly 100 shots on goal.

Haley Carr and Amber Blackaby put in some decent minutes in the front forward position as they worked hard to get first touches, challenged the other teams defense and looked to set up their teammates. Hailey Bishop transitioned to a middle flat back four position and held her own rotating and attacking properly.

Erin Fitzpatrick was the other part of the middle flat back four. The worked well with Hailey in doing the best they could to cover the offense from the opposing teams. Madison Wirth was only able to play in the Ballard County game as she reinjured her hip. She was somehow able to push through the whole game, showing her dedication. Alex Blackaby transitioned to a wing position. She played aggressively and did her best in running up and down the field. Destiny Montoure also rotated into the front forward position and played well as she was able to get off a few shots on goal. Sidney Dietrich played a strong left wing as she made beautiful crosses and clears. Morgan Sydnor and Katie Boggs were part of the flat back four rotation. They did a better job of containing rather than stabbing at the ball and on running out to pressure the ball rather than retreating.

The JV Ladycats took the field on Friday, September 6 in a home game against Scott. The Ladycats had fallen to Scott in a scrimmage game earlier in the season that didn't turn out pretty. The Ladycats would again fall to Scott but showed much improvement with a final score of 1-3. The goal was scored by Allison Lenox with an assist from Madison Sydnor in a pass to the weak side.

Both the Varsity and JV Ladycats played Villa Madonna on Saturday, September 8. The varsity would lose the match with a final score of 1-3. The Ladycats goal was scored by Junior, Michaela Wright. She took a run up the middle of the field and unloaded from beyond the 18. The ball fell perfectly between the top bar of the goal and the goalie's gloves. It was one of the positive things the coaches could take from the night.

Again the Ladycats failed to see the importance of winning the first touch and possessing the ball. They had to do more work by allowing Villa Madonna to take the ball when they could've simply stepped in front of them. They were also caught up in a kick ball match as the Ladycats were not looking to make runs and plays but simply clearing the ball and leaving the forwards to try to sprint to get to it. The Ladycats have to pull together and find it within themselves to fix these problems before they can start winning more games.

The JV Ladycats were only able to get one half of their game in as night began to set in. They would pull away with the win in a score of 1-0. McKayla Manor would earn an assist as Kristen Wolfe charged in from the weak side to put the ball in the net. Goalie, Amber Blackaby would earn her second shutout of the season. She had a recorded 2 goalie saves. This low number shows the effort of the team to keep the ball from making its way back to her. This was evident as the ball was in the Ladycats offensive end for 90% of the game.

"But an hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for such people the Father seeks to be His worshipers."
~ John 4:23

BUTLER BAPTIST

Sunday was the ordination service for Darryl Wilder. Butler Baptist choir opened the service. Members from both Lenoxburg and Butler Baptist churches were there to support him. He gave his testimony of how he accepted Jesus at the age of 17 and now the call to the ministry so he could follow Jesus where he is leading. Jenni Nugent sang "Hallelujah." The charge for both Darryl and the churches was read by Bro. Daryl Mullins.

Bro. Fred Workman brought the message from Exodus. The church is facing a battle. We all have a role to fill in that battle. God is at work in the world today and He will bring victory. Several presentations were made including one by the Butler Baptist Church youth group that Darryl has worked with.

Following the service everyone adjourned to the fellowship hall. May the Lord bless your ministry.

BUTLER CHRISTIAN

Bro. Denny's sermon September 2 was titled, "Two for one." Scripture Mark 12:28-34.

Liturgist: Billy Kirby. Acolyte: Alexis Magee.

Prayer concerns: All nursing home and assisted living residents, shut-ins, Betty Jaeger, Dora Johnson, Robin Mulloy, Janet Courtney, Jim Teegarden, military personnel, Kim Thornton, James Meadows, Pat Lambert, our country, Ken English, Tom Wells, Ann Riley, Ted Greenwell, Sharon Jones, Charles Doutaz, Margaret Gibson, Anna Mary Marshall, Daniel Stinnett, Tyler Vessels, Vidas Race, Debby Veirs, Betty Hedges, Fern Thornberry, Eddie Orr, Julie Adams, Yandall Schneider, Renee Fardo, Terry Petering, Josh Blackaby, Lois Rose, Allison Munson, Jack Ackman, Shawn Russell, Tom Utz, Jacob Farwell, Anna Hope Curwood.

Tuesdays: LIFE Youth Group meets at 6 p.m.; Bible study at 7 p.m. with meal at 6:30 p.m.

September 23: Pot luck dinner after church; Majestic Sounds Quartet will perform.

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m.; morning worship at 11 a.m. Nursery available.

BUTLER METHODIST

We are bombarded with words, on the internet, on TV, the radio, books, movies, ipads, cellphones, land-lines and more. Someone said "The totality of our existence is what we have heard." What is your life evidence of? What have you heard? Is it the word of God?

Been meaning to read the whole Bible and study what's in it? Join disciple Bible study, which will meet at 6:15 p.m. on Mondays. Materials are being ordered so let David know ASAP if you want to attend.

Charge conference was held on Sunday evening, thanks to all who attended.

We wish Pops a very happy 90th birthday.

Please pray for Benjamin, Renee Fardo, a family dealing with the effects of drugs, Greg McElfresh, Jim and Carol's daughter and family, Michelle Caldwell, Gene Hisel, Connor Clifford and all those mentioned during prayer time on Sunday.

"Let the words of my mouth be music to your ears." Jesus

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

The choir sang a beautiful song titled "How deep is the Father's love?" which led perfectly into Bro. Cohen's message concerning the resurrection of Christ. The resurrection of Christ was necessary for our salvation, it is paramount to our relationship with Him, it ensures our justification, it gives us security and it guarantees our resurrection in the future. God's love is greater than we can ever comprehend.

"But God demonstrates His own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us." Romans 5:8

We all are willing to do more for our family than we are for total strangers, right? Christ paid the ultimate price and died for each of us before we were part of His family. How much more will He do for us now that we are His sons and daughters? Our prayer is that each of you will join the family of Christ!

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Another Labor Day has passed, fall will be upon us soon. Let us start by reading our Bible everyday and thanking God for all our blessings.

Bro. Rick's message was from II Peter 3:1-18. "The day of the Lord." The unsaved are willingly ignorant of the Word. Our country is slipping away from godly values. God doesn't run this world by our time table. The day of the Lord is coming, you need to uphold the church.

Pray for our elected officials, our country, our military, people on your pray list and Brother Rick, Lisa and Zack.

We are having a hymn sing on September 15 to raise money for Tony Tater Carol to go on a missions trip. Everyone is welcome!

Our special music was by Rebecca Land, she did a wonderful job. Thanks Rebecca.

If you don't have a church home, try the Falmouth Christian Church. May God bless!

FALMOUTH METHODIST

When most of us hear the word "saint," we think of legendary figures who lived and died in biblical times. But what about the saints living today?

Greg's fourth grade teacher was the saint in his young life. Miss Bennett made school subjects seem so interesting that the whole class wanted to learn. In addition to teaching, Miss Bennett was also active in her church, being involved in many inspiring things.

The thing that impressed Greg the most about her was the way she put her words into action. In the classroom she challenged her pupils to learn because she herself was excited. In church, she was the first to lend a helping hand whenever she was needed. When you live out your faith every day, you help others learn by your example. If you set your mind to it you can become a saint in someone else's eyes.

FIRST BAPTIST

Blessings to all! Special music on this first Sunday in September was Adarin Williams, playing "Thank God for the lighthouse," on the piano.

Bro Harry's message was taken from Galatians. Sometimes we grow tired and discouraged from trying to do good. Don't grow weary in well doing. The worse enemy of enthusiasm is time. If we lose our enthusiasm we make wrong decisions. If we start doing things to please ourselves, we lose faith. Don't lose faith, keep on doing good for others. Remember we reap what we sow. Sow the word of God in others hearts.

Pray this week for the lost, those with illness, those who have lost loved ones, our military, our missionaries and our country.

"Visit First Baptist Church, we'll help you study for your final exams!"

HARVEST COMMUNITY

When you examine your life, what do you see? Possibilities, opportunities or problems? Discover what God wants to do in your life; seek Him out. Don't dwell on your past, you have a future and God wants to be a part of it. "You cannot do it on your own; He patiently waits for you to ask Him for guidance." Isaiah 43:18-19

Opportunities: Work at the property at 6 p.m., Thursday, September 13; men's meeting at 8 a.m., Saturday, September 15; and family fun night at 6 p.m., Saturday, September 22, followed by youth camp out at the Pavillion.

Prayer concerns: Gene Hisel, Michell Caldwell, Noah Helton, Joy Sowder, Steve Hartzel and the family of Brent Sears.

Come visit with us at 111 E. Shelby Street on Sundays; 9:30 a.m. Bible Study, 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. worship and 6 p.m. youth group. Prayer service at 6 p.m., Wednesdays with praise team practice at 7 p.m.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Scripture Luke 6: 27-28.

Thanks to our guest minister today, Ed Salerno. The message was on "love your enemies." Some of us may deny we have any enemies. Sometimes we can be our own worst enemy. If we do believe we have enemies in our lives, do we ever try to get to know or understand them? What they might be going through could be some of the same things as we are. God tells us to do good, to bless them and to pray for them. If we did this, the walls that we put up between us and them would soon come down and instead of having an enemy, we could have a friend.

The volleyball team played in an all day tournament Saturday, September 1. St. Genevie was the winner at the end of a long day.

Thanks to Kelly and Steve for our special music.

Please continue to pray for all those on our prayer list, especially for Earl and Mariah, our military and our troubled country.

MT. GILEAD

I stopped by the old church last week, and it was still there, looking so proud. The location has a beautiful view, and very little traffic. The beauty was its years of service. While the congregation is small, we still worship the third Sunday of every month.

September is going to be exciting! Regular service will be Sunday, September 16. If you have never been there, treat yourself and come with a friend, at 2:30 p.m. on September 16.

Let us not forget, there will be a wedding at the church on Saturday, September 19. Next week I'll provide more details. For now, just mark your calenders.

A passing thought, I found in my date book, "Nobody will believe in you unless you believe in yourself." One had to be positive about activities in your life. Have a little talk with Jesus, He will show you the "way." He laid out a path to follow, to get one to Eternity, stay on the "Jesus path."

MT. MORIAH

We welcome to Mt. Moriah, John Jackson Sr. and John Jackson Jr. This father and son were baptized Sunday, August 26. It's great to see you both in church.

Remember ladies night out is at 6 p.m., Friday, September 14, in the church basement.

A quote to think about for your week, "A man may hide God from himself, and yet he cannot hide himself from God." William Secker

NEW HOPE

The New Hope Church of Christ will host its annual hunting and fishing day from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., September 15. This year there will be presentations on fall hunting, trapping, cleaning and care of wildlife, tree stands and safety, care of game for taxidermy and fall fishing. There will be displays and antler scoring. Lunch will be provided as well. Everything is totally free and is open to all ages. If you have any questions about the day or need more information, please contact us at 859-445-1549 or email at nhccpreacher@yahoo.com

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship. Sunday school starts at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: The CrossFire Crew will be preforming for the associational youth rally on September 15; we will have our annual hot dog roast at 7 p.m., September 22; a harvest party and hayride for the kids at 1 p.m., October 21.

Please remember in prayer Bill Brown, Bill Vanlandingham, Don Sizemoore, Brenda Sizemoore, Donna Hobs, Angie Hemphill, Sheila Eckerly, Earl West, Dustin Warner, Lonnie Hull, Charlie Tarvin, Beulah West, Gary Norris, the Edie and Call families and all of our men and women in uniform. Also remember to pray daily for our schools, our country, its leaders and for all of the lost.

"The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy." Psalm 103:8

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

Peter needed to be rescued many times throughout the Gospel, just like us. Being rescued doesn't always promise no pain or suffering. But remember, God is still in control!

Some of our upcoming events are the youth fishing tourney, September 15. Fish where you want, and return to church by noon; men's gathering at Camp Northward September 17; ladies retreat September 22; and "Happy trails" will be at 1 p.m., September 23, at the farm of Jim and Sherry Fields. Then at 5:30 p.m. is a lawn concert by Majestic Sound Quartet. So bring your chair and come join us.

Prayer concerns include Leroy Clifford (eye), Juanita King, Ease Cordray, Bev Bass, Janice Wolfe, Daniel Robey (fractured tibia), Hazel Jacob (broken pelvis), LuAnn Holmes (throat issue), Donna Kennedy, Mary Doan (pinched nerve). Greg McElfresh, Michelle Caldwell, Hilda Angell, Margaret McCann, Renee Fardo, Geneva Morris, cancer issues and shut ins. Our sumpathy to the loved ones of Melvin Cordray and Nancy Johnson.

TRINITY

Summer may be coming to an end, but our fellowship is heating up with our overflowing schedule. What a way to start off September with the Lord's supper to refresh us spiritually as we discovered in Matthew 26:26-29 and I Corinthians 11:27-33.

Everybody is welcome at Trinity every Sunday, but next Sunday September 9 especially, because you won't want to miss the free concert by Phil Cross at 10:45 a.m. He will encourage and preach through song.

Softball season is coming to an end. Our team was blessed to get first place in the season and our church will cheer them on as they play the tournament this Friday and Saturday.

Awanas will begin at 6:15 p.m., September 16.

We can't wait for Youth Sunday in October to see the talented, growing youth group that started this summer. Don't forget the annual church yard sale September 21-22.

TURNER RIDGE

In August we prayed for the start of a new school year. Sunday, September 2 was the start of the new church year and Bro. Dale presented those entering first grade with Bibles. Congratulations to Leroy Bryant and Rebecca McCoy.

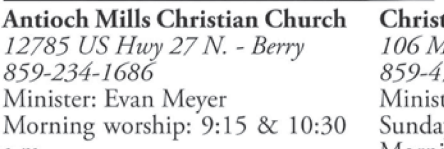

The children's message was "Good on the inside," we need to remember things aren't always as they appear...Jesus changes us on the inside.

Taylor Gabbard read scripture from Romans 12:6-8 and Jason Gregg blessed us with special music "It means just what it says."

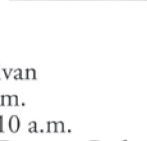

Bro. Dale's sermon "The joy of the Lord" was based on Nehemiah 8:9-10, which ends by stating "for the joy of the Lord is your strength." Everything comes together in God's time, children received Bibles, they do mean just what they say, and the joy of the Lord is our strength!

Parents can give their child no greater heritage than taking them to church and leading them to believe in the Lord. We can all have that "joy" by accepting Christ as our Savior, seeing others be saved and encouraging fellow Christians. The lessons most valuable in life are taught in Sunday school and other church services.

Find a church home for your family and find the strength only Jesus can offer.

Country Ham Auction – Open Invitation

Everyone is cordially invited to the 2nd Annual 4-H Country Ham Auction scheduled for 6 p.m., September 21 at the Extension office. Supper will be provided prior to the auction and all ham participants, family, and potential buyers are invited to come. This will operate very similar to the way it did last year and the way our livestock show and sale runs. We hope you will consider buying one of the 4-Her's country hams but add-ons are always welcome as well!

RSVP to the Extension office if you plan on attending to ensure that we have enough food for everybody.

Please contact the office for questions. Thanks for your support of Pendleton County youth!

Highly Erodible Land Initiative

The USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) announced that continuous sign-up for the Highly Erodible Land (HEL) Initiative under the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) started on July 23, 2012. Kentucky received a total allocation of 39,400 acres to enroll in the HEL CRP program. Offers will be accepted until either the state acreage allocation limit is reached or September 30, 2012 whichever occurs first.

This initiative will accept offers with an erosion rate of at least 20 tons per acre per year for new cropland or CRP acres that expire on September 30, 2012; however, existing grass stands that are not considered expiring CRP will not be considered eligible for enrollment. Eligible cropland must also have a history of being cropped four out of six years, 2002 through 2007. Landowners enrolled in CRP receive annual rental payments and cost-share assistance to establish long term, resource conserving covers on eligible farmland. Incentive payments are not authorized under this initiative.

New land contracts approved during this continuous sign-up initiative will become effective the first day of the month following the month of approval and are valid for 10 years.

Eligible CRP contracts set to expire on September 30, 2012, may be offered for consideration and approved contracts will become effective October 1, 2012. The contract duration is also 10 years.

For more information,, please contract the USDA Farm Service Agency, Falmotuh Service Center, 814 Highway 27 S., Falmouth, Ky. 41041 or call 859-654-3374.

Prevent falls

Anyone can fall, but the risk of falling and being seriously injured by a fall increases with age. One in three adults over the age of 65 falls each year, causing the majority of injury and injury-related deaths among seniors. National Falls Prevention Awareness Day is the first day of fall, September 22. This day brings attention to the seriousness of falls and the ways to prevent them.

Four simple ways to reduce the risk of a fall include exercise, healthy vision, safe home environments and smart medication usage.

Exercise, especially an activity that improves balance and coordination such as tai chi, is a key in preventing falls. Lifting weights can reduce the risk of a fall as it strengthens muscles and bones and helps you feel better and stronger. It's important to consult with a physician or health care provider before starting an exercise program to find one that is right for you.

It is normal for vision to change with age, but poor vision increases the chances of falling. You can minimize poor vision by having annual eye exams, maintaining and wearing the correct prescription glasses and contacts, and controlling your exposure to glare and changes in light.

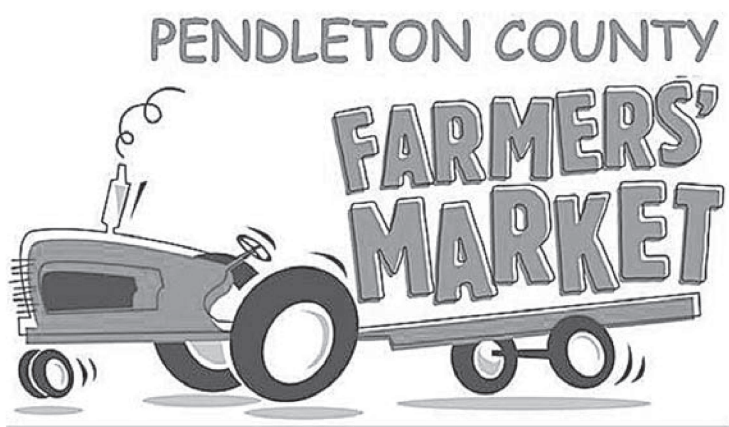

More than half of all falls occur at home. Living in an unsafe or cluttered environment increases the risk of falls. To avoid accidents, make sure tripping hazards, such as a grandchild's toy or an extension cord, are off the floor. Proper lighting and appropriate shoes with non-slip soles and low heels are also helpful. It is also wise to wear an emergency alert button or keep a cell or cordless phone with you at all times in case of an emergency. Finally, medication or a combination of medicines can sometimes have adverse effects that can make you feel dizzy or drowsy. It is important to have a physician or pharmacist review all prescription and over-the-counter medications to help reduce the risk of falling.

The fear of falling is also a risk factor for falls. Sometimes people become inactive or socially isolated because they fear falling. If you find yourself in this situation, let your physician know. Your physician may help you get to the root of your fear or even refer you to a physical therapist who can design an exercise program to meet your needs.

The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service offers two fall prevention programs, Stand Up to Falling and A Matter of Balance. These programs aim to educate participants about the risk of falling and teach ways to prevent falls and the fear of falling in order to help older adults stay safer and more independent as they age.

For more information about fall prevention education or UK fall prevention programs, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Donations are needed in helping the 4-H teens with "Operation Christmas"

The Pendleton County 4-H Teen Club is doing a service project for Operation Christmas Child. The Operation Christmas Child is an organization that sends shoes boxes filled with toys, tooth brushes and tooth paste, bars of soap, hard candy and more, to give to children as Christmas presents. These boxes are sent to children in third world counties, who typically have nothing; some may have to share a tooth brush with 20+ other people, some may live in a small area with multiple people, some do not have anything to drink out of on a regular basis, and they probably have nothing to call their own. These children generally do not know what Christmas is or who Jesus Christ is. With your help, we can potentially give these children their first interaction with Jesus and their Christmas present.

The Pendleton County Teen Club will be collecting:
- Empty shoe boxes
- Boys and girls toys for children ages 2-14 (include batteries)
- Bars of soap (no liquid items)
- Tooth brush and tooth paste
- Hard candy (No chocolate or dated food)
- Socks
- Underwear
- Shoes
- Hair brush
- Empty water bottles
- Any other item that could be given as a present

Each box costs $7 to send across seas, so we are also asking for monetary donations; I know we are asking for a lot, but we are asking for whatever you are willing to give. After the collections are taken up, The Pendleton County Teen Club will also be having a Packing Party to pack boxes on October 10th at 10 am at the Pendleton County Extension Office. If you would also like to donate your time, we would appreciate that.

Please consider helping us with the great cause. We would love to see a lot of items donated and have a lot of people come out to pack. We thank you in advance for any donations you are willing to give. If you have any questions you can contact me at kkelseykknight@aol.com or 8594457254. You could also contact the 4-H Agent, Shelley Meyer at shelley.meyer@uky.edu or 8596543395.

Laundry is hanging on the lines drying really quickly with the sun and breeze blowing. It took longer than usual to do the washing as the motor on the washing machine kept shutting down. I will have to have my husband Joe look at it when he comes home from work. We usually wash clothes on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays but had to wait until today because we were out of gas. It is not fun filling up the gas jugs in town when the gas is over four dollars a gallon. It would be lots cheaper to do laundry the way we did when we were growing up. It was a lot harder work, though, and I remember how tiresome it was to push the handle on the washing machine back and forth. Mom would set the timer for a certain many minutes on each load. I remember that there were a few times when I would set the timer off before it was done. I am sure that Mom caught on that some loads were done faster than others. Another thing back then that did not have a motor was on our well pump. We had a windmill so on windy days the wind would pump the water to the water tank for the animals. Days when there was not enough wind to make the windmill go we had to pump the water by hand. It would seem to take forever to get those stop tanks. Cold water was also pumped over the milk cans to cool the milk off quickly. We would take turns pumping and that chore would get tiresome too. When we first moved to our own place after Joe and I were married we did not have a windmill. Joe would pump the water to the tank for horses and our cow and calf. Later on we did get a motor that Joe would hook on the pump and move to my washing machine on wash days. (Editor's Note: Old Order Amish communities vary from place to place, some allow gasoline-powered motors, others do not. Lovina's community permits them)

I would sometime decide to do laundry after Joe left for work so I soon figured out how to change the motor from the pump to the washing machine. This is the same motor that I use on my washing machine 16 years later. It is probably seeing the end of its days. We didn't have a cistern pump right away. Joe would take five gallon buckets out of the cistern for me to do laundry. It always looked dangerous so we did get a cistern pump then. Now I am spoiled when I can just run hot water into my washing machine and not have to carry and heat the water first.

Last night we attended the open house at the school. The children could meet their new teachers. They had hot dog sandwiches, carrots, celery sticks, cauliflower, oranges and grapes for everyone to eat. We sure do appreciate the school moving all of Loretta's classes to the first floor lower level. It will be so much easier for her to not have to climb the stairs School doors will open on Tuesdays, Septembr 4. Son Kevin will have his 7th birthday on Sunday, September 2. It is so hard to believe our youngest is that age.

Kevin said he wants cupcakes instead of a cake. Also a happy 40th birthday to my editor to Kevin Williams. We wish you God's blessings on your birthday and always. My husband Joe is off work for the Labor Day weekend so he will have a four day break. Daughter Elizabeth will be off on Monday as well.

I had enough tomatoes to can more tomato juice this week. Red beets are ready to be canned but we will leave that until next week. I will share a recipe that a reader sent to me.

2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;

3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;

4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;

5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;

6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;

7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time; and

8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a) Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
b) Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws or regulations;
c) Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

CARD OF THANKS

Pugh Thanks

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to those who reached out to us during the loss of our loved one, Gladys Pugh. Some sent cards or spoke comforting words, others prepared food and sent flowers, but all touched our hearts. A special thanks to Ruth and Allie for their loving care, to Hospice of the Bluegrass for the comfort brought to her in her final hours, to Bro. Bill Wilson and Bro. Jason Anderson for the truth spoke at her funeral, to Timmy and Michael Cummins and Tara Gaye Brocker for the sweet melody of song, and lastly, to Woodhead Funeral Home for such caring touches. - The Family of Gladys Pugh 30-1t-np

Sponcil Thanks

The family of Yueltia "Babe" Sponcil would like to thank everyone for their cards, flowers, food, gifts, kindness, prayers and visits during the illness and passing of our mother. A special thank you to Bro. Bobby Barnes for visits, even feeding mom lunch and his lovely service in mom's tribute. To Unity Baptist Church for the enormous and delicious buffett they provided. Heartfelt thanks to Woodhead Funeral Home Family, especially Mary) and staff for their guidance and help. They handled everything beautifully and with such compassion. Jerry and Janice Sponcil, Wayne and Carol Sponcil, Freida Sponcil Turner, Trena and Ed Ackerman, Mike and Greta Kidwell. 30-1t-pd

LEGAL

I, Steven Brown, will not be responsible for any other debts incurred other than my own effective immediately. 29-2t-pd

WHEN YOU HAVE A CHRONIC ILLNESS, THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS A DUMB QUESTION.

Coping with a chronic illness can be, at times, overwhelming. So it's easy to overlook one of the simplest—and smartest—things you can do to help yourself. Ask questions.

Ask your doctors, your nurses, and therapists. Ask about your symptoms, your diet, and your treatments. Ask why you're taking your medicines and how they work.

Asking questions helps you gain information and become more involved with your own health care treatment. Questions help your providers understand your concerns, and help them do their best to help you. So write down your questions in advance. Then write down their answers.

The important thing is to ask until you understand. Remember, everyone on your health care team works for you. It's their job to answer your questions. And your right to ask.

It's your health. You call the shots.

Teachers are asset builders and make a big difference

To teach is to touch a life forever. Teachers have the potential to be powerful asset builders. In addition to the Commitment-to-Learning assets (21–25), five other assets (3: Other Adult Relationships; 5: Caring School Climate; 8: Youth as Resources; 12: School Boundaries; and 14: Adult Role Models) focus on the important role of a teacher. Below are some suggestions for what teachers can do to build assets. These suggestions are intended to give you some ideas for how to get started. They may need to be modified or adapted depending on the grade you teach; whether you are a classroom teacher, specialist, or resource teacher; and the nature of your school environment.

* Post the list of assets in your classroom.
* Devote a bulletin board in your classroom to asset-building messages.
* Plan asset-building learning activities as part of the curriculum (for example, service learning projects, social skills training or setting aside time to read for pleasure).
* Greet students by name when you see them.
* Send a letter to parents about the idea of asset building, and then use assets as springboards for discussions in conferences with parents and students.
* Meet with other teachers and brainstorm ways to help students succeed. Some schools have set up DATES(Developing Assets to Encourage Success)meetings that are designed to help students who are struggling academically.
* Encourage access to at least one caring adult for each student in the building. Homerooms can facilitate this.
* Provide opportunities for service learning. Help students plan and make decisions about providing service to others.
* Empower students by encouraging them to tell their stories through written and visual autobiographies.
* Work with students to set school boundaries or rules. Post a written set of the rules in conspicuous places: hallways, classrooms, lunchroom, gymnasium, and other common areas. Create copies of the rules and have an agreement form for students and parents to sign, indicating their willingness to stay within the boundaries.
* Set high and clear expectations for student behavior and learning outcomes.
* Choose a quote of the day with an asset focus and ask students to talk about it.
* Don't let students get away with bullying or fighting. Talk to them about how to resolve conflicts peacefully.
* Use "strength interviews" with students to help them identify their assets and their sources of support.
* Attend concerts, programs, and activities your students are involved in.
* Congratulate successes with a written note, a call home, or verbal praise.

We have many teachers that do this already. The Pendleton County Champions Coalition knows this and we are sure you do too.

Who was the asset builder in your life? We want to hear your story. Please share with us who your favorite teacher was or is and the difference they have made in your life.
